

Public urban space is as coveted as it is scarce and therefore subject to sometimes contradictory and competing interests of its users. Municipalities are responsible for designing public spaces and squares in such a way that all people have access to them, can freely pursue their interests, and feel comfortable and, above all, safe doing so. In this balance the latter aspect in particular must and shall not restrict the others.

To manage public spaces and enhance security, collaboration among stakeholders is crucial. By empowering them through training and fostering a culture of learning, stakeholders can contribute effectively. Coordination, resources, and customised programs are key to their success. Encouraging inclusivity, diversity, and innovation will strengthen efforts for safer public environments.

Training content developed and tested by:

DIGITAL TRAINING PLATFORM FOR SECURE PUBLIC SPACES

The flyer was funded by the European Union's Internal Security Fund — Police. The content of this flyer represents the views of the author only and is his/her sole responsibility. The European Commission does not accept any responsibility for use that may be made of the information it contains.

Training for self-learners

The training platform developed within the framework of the EU project Secu4All supports security and law enforcement agencies, urban planners and other relevant actors with an online training offer for self-learners. The modular training provides theoretical knowledge as well as practical tools for the protection and design of safe public spaces.

What?

- Free online training for self-learners
- Four topic areas:
 - Risk and vulnerability assessment
 - Crime prevention through environmental design
 - Crisis management communication
 - Ethical use of innovative technologies
- Numerous additional materials for in-depth self-study

How?

- Free registration
- Learn where and whenever suitable
- Self-assessment progress controls
- Certificate of attendance on request

HTTPS://EFUS.EU/TRAINING/

Who?

- Urban planners
- Municipal administrations
- Municipal crime prevention bodies
- Council members and local government
- Law enforcement agencies
- Landscape architects and designers
- & everyone being interest in this topic

